Crops-judging contest

Locals take state crown

Tanner Watson, Glenn McCraney, and Robert Coleman were awarded the State FFA Public Speaking Contest at the State FFA Convention in Blacksburg last week.

Glenn McCraney also received special recognition as the 128 contestants participate in the event.

Contestants were judged on student's ability to identify various crop and weed seed; forage for quality; and select the best seed for planting. From

Board meeting slated

The Appomattox County School Board will meet Wednesday, July 8, at 8 p.m. in the board office on Main Street, according to Lloyd Wilson, superintendent of schools.

The meeting will be the first of the new school year. The agenda item will be reorganization of the School Board

Commission director looks back

Clair reviews time with CVCA

By FRANCES H. FAULETTE

as executive director of the Central Virginia Commission on Aging, a post she held until September 30 of this year.

A native of Michigan, Clair came to Virginia in 1974 when she was appointed director of the Lynchburg Area Office on Aging. She was promoted to executive director in the reason for the change, she said, was "to consolidate the planning and administration of programs for the elderly in the region."

Clair said she was pleased with the progress made by the commission during her seven years with the agency. "We have been able to develop a good working relationship with the local governments in the region," she said. "We have also been able to develop a good relationship with the state agencies that we work with."

Clair said she was also pleased with the progress made by the commission in developing programs for the elderly. "We have been able to develop a number of programs that are unique to the region," she said. "We have been able to develop programs that are not duplicated by other agencies in the region
